Ticketed Events~ Requiring a minimum of 5 Residents

6:00 pm, Friday, March 6~ West Boca High Presents: The Drowsy Chaperone

Tickets were $22 including tax and fees.

West Boca Theatre presented a high-energy production of the Tony-winning musical comedy The Drowsy Chaperone, directed by Jeremy Quinn. The show, featured by the West Boca Theater Arts Academy, is a meta-theatrical parody of 1920s musicals, featuring a "man in a chair" narrating his favorite cast recording.

6:00 pm, Friday, March 13~ Willow Theater Presents: "Damaged Furniture"

Currently on a wait List, Tickets $35 per person, includes taxes and fees.

When Doug Elling receives word that his beloved uncle has died in an unexpected - and bizarre - accident, he rushes from Los Angeles to Brooklyn and finds himself at the center of his family's efforts to salvage their furniture business. An alcoholic father, his 'happy-face' mother, his recently widowed aunt, and his therapist sister all add to the chaos surrounding Doug as he tries to decide upon his future.

"We are now back at the glorious Willow Theatre in Sugar Sand Park where we started over twenty years ago as The Boca Raton Theater Guild," says the show's producer/director Keith Garsson. "Although we have had several successful seasons elsewhere, we are happy to be returning to our original venue - and to our original mission - which was to produce shows on an a-la-carte basis rather than committing to a full season. This enables us to curate new work more finely.

"Howie Skora is a talented young playwright who has said the play is semi-autobiographical," Garsson continues. "And we wanted a straight (and twisted) comedy that was fresh, "now" and relevant," he continues. "Well... it is set in Bensonhurst! But, either way, Damaged Furniture is a comedy for today, a character-based piece that reflects how fast we are these days to say exactly what we are thinking...the moment we think it!"

1:00 pm, Saturday, March 14~ Pompano Player Presents: "Boca"

Waiting List Only. Tickets $39.67 per person, includes taxes and fees

Welcome to Boca, where the sun is hot, the well-maintained seniors are thriving, and 75 is the new 45. In this sun-drenched slice of paradise, life at the Boca Oasis retirement community is anything but retired. Between Botox, bridge, and backhands on the tennis court, this sharp and spirited crew discovers that the golden years can still sparkle with drama, laughter, and a few surprise revelations.
